Learning Modi Script

About Course

Modi was the court script of most Maratha states of India, approximately from 16th Century till early 20th Century. Most of the sources of Maratha history during this period are in Modi script and unread due to lack of knowledge of Modi script. This course aims to introduce students of medieval history specially Maratha history along with the learning and practicing of script. This course will also introduce learners to the various archives which house these sources.

Scope of the Course/Outcome

This course should enable them to take up further studies of modi sources of Maratha history for research. It will also provide a professional skill for transcription and translations of modi papers as such papers are used as sources for various land and property records.

This course will cover...

1. Scripts: - Students will learn to read, write and understand two basic scripts
2. Reading and Comprehension: - Reading and understanding of simple paragraphs, students will be asked to write simple sentences in Modi. Translation of simple modi texts into Marathi/English/Hindi.
3. Calendars: - Students will be introduced to calendars like Hijri, Fasli, Persian
4. Introduction to Documents: - Introduction to various types of documents like Farmans, Taleband, Jakat, Japtpepars, Bhakhars, Karina etc
5. Introduction to Various archives that house these papers
